Samuel and the Fairy

It is Saturday. Samuel's mother is sick. She has fever.

Samuel sees his mum on the bed at nine o'clock.

He takes care of her and helps ^{with} ~~to do~~ the housework. He makes the bed first and washes the dishes after breakfast. Afterwards

he waters the plants on the balcony. ^{VERY VERY VERY} ^{Good Good Good}

At twelve thirty in the afternoon, he sets the table, folds

the clothes, sweeps the floor, cleans the windows and prepares the meal for tonight. Samuel is as hardworking ^{VERY VERY VERY} ^{Good Good Good} as an

ant. He feels very tired but happy. [★] [★]

Suddenly, ~~There is~~ ^{comes from the window and} a fairy ^{flies} around ~~him~~ Samuel when he is in the bedroom. Samuel is at four o'clock [↑]

<sup>VERY VERY VERY Good Good Good</sup>
as scared as a mouse. The ^{fairy} fairy says, "You are a good child and do a lot of housework."
The fairy gives him a wish. He ^{wishes} answers that his mum always ^{stay} happy and healthy.

In the end, Samuel's mum ^{wakes up and gets better.}
She ^{finds that} sees the room is clean and tidy. She is happy. She says, "Thank you. You are my good child." Samuel is <sup>VERY VERY VERY Good Good Good</sup> as happy as a lark
and gives his mum a big hug.
