

My Favourite Character

My favourite character is Sherlock Holmes. When he investigates, he shows prudence, perseverance as well as perspective, I remember that Sherlock Holmes came across a case in which a man used a snake to kill an innocent lady. I feel shocked about this

From the story, I learn that I should be patient and careful when I do my work.

Besides, I shouldn't give up easily. As a detective, Sherlock Holmes often needs to spend much time to think about how to solve complicated and mysterious case. I understand that as a student, I ought to put time and effort to do homework and study hard.

My Favourite Character

My favourite character is the Little Prince. He is very brave and is curious of everything. Why is he curious of everything? Well, because in this book, it said, 'The little prince, who asked me so many questions, seemed never to hear the ones I asked him.'

The little prince taught me that I have to be more brave, have more courage and be more curious to know more things.

My Favourite Character

My favourite book is 'Who is Queen Elizabeth II?'

Queen Elizabeth II was positive and humorous.

When she was young, she promised to serve the people and the country for her whole life. And she did it. She always put the country first, family second.

Although she was queen, she was not always
the serious. Sometimes she made jokes with other people

in front of public.

I learn to be persevered and keep my promise.

My Favourite Character

My favourite character is Jack from Magic Tree

House Merlin Missions #2 Haunted Castle on Hallows Eve. I admire him for his bravery, intelligence and determination. He's always eager to help his sister

Annie on their adventures!

The story was really exciting when Jack and Annie went back in time to a castle in medieval England. They had to find a diamond and fought against the Baren King! Jack was really brave and smart to defeat the ghosts and save the day. He was very helpful.
