

5a Clement Lee Cheuk Mong
HKAT Mock Paper 1 Writing

25th November, 2022

cloudy and rainy

It was my birthday yesterday. My dad came to my room at half past ten in the morning. My dad gave me a super cool and latest model car. My dad said, 'happy birthday! My idiot son!' I was as angry as a lion! I said, 'Dad! Don't call me an idiot!' My dad replied, 'Ha! Just kidding.' I laughed.

I went to the most beautiful park to test my little car. Some children walked in the parkland saw my awesome model car and said, 'Wow! I love your car! Can I have a go?' I replied, 'Of course you can!' They were so excited that they took away my car! I shouted at them, 'Hey! You! Stop right there! You stole my car!' The children were as afraid as mice seeing a car! They cried and cried. When I heard them crying, I started to feel sorry for them. I said, 'Sorry, I can let you play with my car. I won't shout at you again. Just don't take my car and run away.' The kids were as happy as birds. In the end, we played happily.

I learnt that shouting at people was a very rude attitude. I will always be polite to other people and never shout at them.