Yesterday was my birthday, Dad and Mum prepared a birthday party and a birthday present for me. The gift was a robot. When I got the present, I was over the moon.

When I was making a wish, my sister was playing with my robot. Suddenly, I heard a sound. I opened my eyes and found that my robot was broken.

I was as angry as a lion, I scolded my sister. She was as scared as a mouse, and cried for the whole day. The next day, my sister said, 'Sorry, Ken,' to me so I forgave her.

In the end, Dad and Mum bought a new robot for me, I was as happy as a lark.
