Hi Roy,

How was your day? Yesterday I was riding a bus to the M+ Museum for my school trip when something terrible happened.

That day, I met two naughty boys on the bus. They bought some tasty curry fish balls on the street. They ate like a pig. I and the old man next to me felt very annoyed.

The old man decided to stop the boys. He explained politely, 'Hey, it's not allowed to eat on the bus. You can eat them after you leave.' The boy on the left refused rudely and laughed. 'You don't tell us what to do, old man!' 'Our dad is the driver of this bus so we're the owners of this bus now!' They held up their curry fish balls high in the air. The curry sauce was everywhere. The old man and I didn't know what to do.

After a while, a woman with a mask on was finding a seat. She looked sick. I offered my seat to her. She was very grateful and thanked me.

'Last station is M+ Museum.' 'Oh, it's almost time for me to go...' I thought. Suddenly, the boy on the right dropped his fish balls on my shoes. The curry sauce spilled on my white socks.

The people on the bus were shocked. Some generous passengers gave me some tissue to clean my shoes and socks.

After a few minutes, the bus stopped at the last station. The driver came to the boys and scolded them, 'I heard everything you said! Apologise to the old man and the girl!' 'I'm sorry, I guess.' The boys couldn't take no for an answer.

How about you? Did you have a good day?

Yours,
Judy
